AS TO OATS.

The price of oats is the subject of deepest and most immediate concern to the people of this district at this time. And it is a subject to which the least possible attention is being paid. Oats are the big crop of the district. On the good price and ready market which they meet depends good or bad times in the district for the coming year. It is to be feared that people who were alarmed at the outlook last year are viewing the present conditions with undue carelessness; the result of the fortunate outcome of that year. This immediate district has from a million to two million bushels of surplus oats this season. Taking the latter estimate the difference of a cent a bushel on the price makes a difference of $20,000 in the amount of money in general circulation. There is no question that the high price at which the market opened last year and the good figures at which it was maintained throughout the season had everything to do with the flush times which have been experienced for the last twelve months by all classes of people and by every line of business. Given a good price and brisk demand this year and times will still be good. But with depressed prices and a refusing market not only would there be much less money in circulation but the lack of a feeling of confidence would have a most prejudicial effect on every business interest. Last year at this season the local outlook was as bad as it is now, and yet matters came right in good time. Too many of our business men seem to be of the opinion that all that is needed is to keep quiet long enough and the market will come to them again. But the market did not come of itself last year. Although we had the oats last year and the British government needed them in South Africa, had it not been for the action of the department of agriculture in establishing the connection between the Alberta producer and the British army demand in South Africa the greater part of the season would have passed and the greater part of the oats been marketed before the effect of the demand would have been felt by the farmers of Alberta; if indeed it had been felt at all. The conditions made it possible for the department of agriculture to come to the rescue last year, which it did. Those conditions do not exist this year, and some other help must be looked for. No doubt the help of the department may be relied upon. It has already been extended to giving information as to the price of oats at Sydney. But it cannot be given to secure a market for Alberta oats in Australia as it was given last year to secure a market for them in South Africa. The people must do for themselves if they are to have any advantage from the market which undoubtedly exists in Australia.

The Australian demand seems to be our only outlet. And there is need of haste if it is to be met. The demand because of successive seasons of drouth. The present time is the beginning of a new crop season there. The conditions may change during the coming season and Australia have oats to sell instead of to buy. The market is only certain up to the time the new crop ripens; that is as the recent telegram of the commissioner of agriculture put it, for four months. It may continue beyond that time, but it most likely will not. And we have no corner on the supply of Australia even now. Washington, Oregon, California and New Zealand are all in the field with supplies of grain of superior sample. We cannot hope to do anything unless we act quickly and energetically.

On the other hand there is a fair field for private enterprise. There is a steamship line running regularly to the port of greatest interest, Sydney; the Canadian government has a commercial agent there, and will no doubt utilize his services at least in the giving of information. With a margin of 21¢ a bushel on oats it should certainly be possible to do business. But it won't do itself.

It is understood that the chief difficulty is in the manner in which grain is dealt in, in Australia. The trade has been entirely local and not very highly developed. It has consequently been hard to move. So that it is impossible to contract with Sydney buyers to deliver a certain quantity of oats at a certain figure according to sample. The oats must be in sight before they can be sold, and then can only be sold in comparatively small lots to retail dealers. There are many ways in which this difficulty may be overcome, but they need enterprise and capital. Surely we have enough of both here to spare the district from the loss that a dull market for oats would mean.

It is necessary to keep in view the warning given by Mr. Peters, and also by Prof. Robertson as to the quality of oats wanted. Nothing but what is first class and that looks it, is any good. Fortunately we have the oats to fill the bill, in appearance and weight our oats this year will probably excel. But we must not imagine because ours are so far ahead of eastern oats that they are as far ahead of oats raised west of the Rocky Mountains.

The sum of the matter is, we have oats to sell. The Australians want to buy oats. The market is there if we go to it. But it will not come to us—it doesn't have to.

DUES ON DRY TIMBER.

The communication which appears in another column on the subject of dry timber free for settlers' use merits the careful attention of the timber branch of the interior department. The size of the Northwest Territories and the varying conditions which necessarily prevail throughout such a great extent of country render it impossible to frame regulations which shall be equally adapted to all parts. The remedy is either to make separate regulations for different parts of the Territories according to the varying conditions or administer the one set of regulations according to those varying conditions. It must be clearly evident that regulations formed to protect the last and least stick of timber in the prairie regions of the Territories are not adapted to the conditions of north Alberta where timber has to be cleared away in many cases in order to make farms. In the prairie region a stick of wood is of value and should be preserved for settlers use, whether dry or green. But in North Alberta some of the grain timber is in the way of settlement and the dry timber on the public land is, as pointed out in the letter, a menace to settlers and settlement. Dues on dry timber to prevent undue waste, are all right where timber of any kind is scarce. But dues on dry timber which have the effect of encouraging the removal of green timber while leaving the dry timber a menace and an impediment to settlement are anything but all right from any point of view. The case from the settlers point of view is stated fairly and moderately in the letter published, and the matter should receive the early attention of the department. That there are difficulties in the way of adequately meeting the case in this district without unduly relaxing the regulations in other and less favored parts of the Territories, may be recognized. But it is to meet the conditions as they exist that regulations are or should be made.

Printed notices containing further information as to conditions of proposed contract may be seen and blank forms of Tender may be obtained at the Post Offices of Stony Plain, and the proposed lines at Lac Ste Anne and Wainwright and at the office of the Post Office Inspector.

Hints to Shoppers

Have you seen those ladies' cashmere hose the Hudson's Bay Stores are selling at 25 cents? Would be cheap at 40 cents.

Have you seen those lovely little white Lamb Ruffs the Hudson's Bay Stores are showing? Just the thing for any little girl, from 10 or 12 years down. Look too "cumfy" for anything. You get them for 40 cents while they last. May have to pay 75¢ when this lot are gone.

Have you seen those crocheted wool Tam O'Shanter, now being shown at the Hudson's Bay Stores? The very nicest fall headwear there is for school girls or young ladies. Lovely thick soft Scotch wool, large full size, silk lining, at 50¢ and 65¢. The kind ordinarily offered at these prices, we are selling at 35¢ and 40¢.

Blue serge sailor suits for little girls, beautifully made, trimmed with white braid, very stylish and dainty, and costing only about $3.25, are now shown at the Hudson's Bay Stores. Does it pay you to worry yourself about the home-made kind?

If you want to worry over getting something made for your girls, take a look at the All-Wool Tweeds, Friezes, Blanket-Cloth, etc., suitable for girls' or children's coats, shown at the Hudson's Bay Stores. These goods are the nicest that can be made out of wool, and are noticeably better values than are offered elsewhere. A peculiarity of the Hudson's Bay Stores is that their all-wool goods are ALL WOOL.

While you are about it, consider what lovely winter skirts some of these goods would make. Heavy and warm; pretty shades, and make up very handsome and stylish; never wear out or look shabby; and you can get them 54 to 60 inches wide, at from 85¢ on 90¢ to up to $1.60. At the latter figure you get a lovely reversible cloth, plain face and plaid back, fine for unlined skirt, jacket, coat or cape.

You should make a point of seeing the Blouse-Fannels at the Hudson's Bay Stores. About twenty pieces, one blouse in a piece, no two alike. You couldn't pick an ugly one out of this lot if you tried. Don't wait until the patterns you like are gone. Prices are $1.25 and $1.50 a length.

Next week will be a busy time in the House-Furnishing room at the Hudson's Bay Stores. The clerks will be busy opening and showing a range of tapestries, Velours, Art Satens, Cretonnes, Art Denims, Muslins, Silk Coverings, Draperies, etc., which will be a revelation to house-keepers who will be good enough to call and inspect them. You can have no idea, until you see them what really handsome goods you will be able to buy for only about 25 cents a yard. Of course, there will be plenty of the other kind—Tapestries $1.50, and silk coverings at $3 and $4 a yard.

SPRING GROVE

Rev. S. H. Kruger, who was formerly the Methodist missionary on Stony Plain West, returned from Ontario last Wednesday and paid us a flying visit the following day. It will be remembered that Mr. Kruger met with a very unfortunate mishap on the 18th Jan. last, and this subsequently led to his having to leave for Montreal where he consulted two specialists regarding the precarious condition he was then in. Under their advice and treatment and extraordinary care of home friends Mr. Kruger, who we believe, regained his youthful vigor and is once more ready for bucking on the armour. We understand that his labors this year will be in Olds and the surrounding district.

Mr. Chapman, and his son (who has lately been in the American army in the Philippines) who both recently arrived here from Colorado to select land for ranching purposes, left our district last Tuesday. At the time of writing we do not know what conditions they have arrived at or what their intended plans are for their future operation.

Chicken shooting is the chief interesting occupation of many of our people during the early morning hours. Prairie chickens are in great abundance, especially in some places, but this frequently happens when the distance between the gun and the chickens can be measured by the rod and often by the mile.

William Krause has thoroughly overhauled and remodelled the threshing machine which he purchased last winter and has commenced work. His machine, contrary to the expectations of many, is doing first class work. Barley is turning out extraordinarily well, especially what was cut before the hail on Aug. 27th. Wheat is of a good sample but in great abundance, while oats, particularly in the halibelt of country, are but a partial crop, and in some cases giving very meagre returns.

The Suder & Umbach threshing outfit has gone into the Glory Hills district to share in the spoils of that unharmed belt of country. We congratulate the Glory Hills people upon the threshing accommodations they have this year when compared with former years. Throughout the whole district only three or four farms had crops injured by hail and one of these received but slight injury.

Having purchased the Livery and Bus business of Polard & Kennelly, we are prepared to supply all requirements in the above lines. Reliable drivers on the bus.

DRY TIMBER FOR SETTLERS USE

Sir.—I beg to call your attention to the following facts regarding the dry and standing timber in the district:

At present it is only a fire trap and is going to waste, prevents settlement and hinders the growth of green timber. Besides being merely a fire trap, it is a pest which eventually will destroy itself, all the green timber and also the settlers' homes in its vicinity.

The settlers in this district are allowed to use all the dry timber they wish for fuel and fencing but if they wish to use it for building purposes on their own places they have to pay $1.50 per thousand for it the same as for green timber, (if they have already used their homesteaders' free allowance.)

These settlers living in the vicinity of miles and miles of burnt and fallen timber which is rotting and wasting by the action of the elements cannot understand why they should not be allowed to use as much of this dry stuff as they wish, as it is being used for building purposes on their own places either free or at a less cost than the green trees.

If permitted to do so, the green timber would be more protected and the country better off to have the land on which the dry timber lies or stands cleared and the risk from prairie fires a good deal reduced.

As no doubt you are aware the present regulations allow a homesteader, free of charge, on taking out a 25-cent permit the following timber: 3000 feet, lineal, or building logs, (not exceeding 12 inches at the butt end) 2000 poplar fence rails, 400 roof poles, 500 fence posts, dead or fallen timber for fuel or fencing, to be cut on any vacant Dominion lands in case they have no timber on their own place suitable for building purposes. They of course have the privilege of using the timber that is on their own place (for improvements thereon) free of charge and without taking out any permit. Besides this when they have used up their free homesteaders' allowance they can get a permit for all the timber they want for their own use on their own place at $1.50 per thousand without competition. This is all very satisfactory and certainly gives the homesteader every chance.

However the chief complaint is regarding the dry standing and fallen timber. They have to pay as much for it as for the green stuff, consequently all the green stuff is being cut very rapidly. There could be made a distinction between the two with great advantage to the settler and to the government. Outside of this one small matter the timber regulations appear to give every satisfaction.

As far as I can make out their sawn stuff costs them as follows whether dry or green:

Cost per thousand feet B. M.
Timber permit.	$0.25
One thousand feet B. M.	1.50
Cost of sawing.	0.50
Labor and hauling from 6 to 20 miles (including grub and horse feed) say 15 to 18 logs—
1000 B. M.	4.50
	$9.75

In round figures $10.00 per M. This they are willing to pay in case of green logs which are generally all sold, but in case of dry stuff which is for the most part punky and full of cracks they think too much; especially when having cut in excess double dues are collected the same as for green timber.

I am of the opinion that it would be of benefit to the district to allow the settler to cut all the dry stuff free of charge as long as he uses it in connection with his own land and is not allowed to barter or sell it and thus come in competition with the licensed mill owner.

As you are aware the farmer at the present time has this advantage over another in that he can get all the timber he wants for his own use at $1.50 per thousand B. M. without competition. As shown above it eventually costs him allowing him for his time and grub $10.00 per B. M. The ordinary citizen has not this privilege but has to go to the mill and pay $10 to $20 per thousand B. M.

If the regulation now in force were made to read "dry and fallen timber for fuel or fencing (and building) for their own use on their own land and appear to meet the situation and give a great deal of satisfaction."

A. Davies is having an extensive addition built at the back of his store to accommodate the rapid expansion of business. The addition will give him premises a depth of one hundred and twenty feet.

Mrs. E. Harrison, of this town, is the proud possessor of a beautiful pineapple plant which is eight feet high and still growing rapidly. In June last it was a slip ten inches high.

A meteor of remarkable brilliancy was seen by some of our citizens last Friday afternoon about 9:30 o'clock. The sun was still shining and hence the heavenly wanderer was not so noticeable as it would have been at night, but the fact that it was visible at all that hour is evidence that it must have been of very great brilliancy.

A. H. Richards & Co. are making extensive enlargements of their store building. The floor space is being almost doubled and the width is being increased to thirty-three feet, the full width of the lot on which it stands. This expansion will give much needed space for the heavy stock this firm now carries.

A representative of Evans, Coleman & Evans, a Vancouver wholesale commission house, was in Strathcona this week making inquiries about the firm. The firm is negotiating with Australian concerns with a view to supplying oats. It is probable that if the quality of Alberta oats this season will satisfy the Australians an extensive trade can be done.

On Monday Mayor Burris, of Lacombe, and Counc. J. West and J. McKay, of Wetaskiwin, arrived at Strathcona to examine the fire apparatus of this town with a view to the purchase of equipment for their respective towns. On Tuesday morning members of the fire brigade gave an exhibition of the working of the gasoline engine for the benefit of the visiting gentlemen which met with their entire satisfaction.

On Saturday last Tom Dufries suffered a painful accident while feeding on George Bevington's threshing at work on the farm of E. Palmer east of Strathcona. A tooth in the cylinder was clicking and Mr. Dufries signalled the engineer to stop. As the machine was coming to a standstill his foot slipped in some manner and he was thrown forward, his right hand going into the cylinder. His glove was torn off and his hand terribly lacerated before he could get it out. He was at once brought to town and the wound was dressed by Dr. McIntyre. Fortunately no bones were broken and the doctor hopes the hand can be saved for future usefulness though it will certainly be badly scarred and crippled to some extent.

The removal of the electric light plant from Jackson Bros' premises to the new station on the town's property adjoining the fire hall was successfully accomplished last week, lighting being resumed on Saturday evening after suspension of four nights. Some trouble had been experienced by reason of the smoke stack being so close to the fire hall that the draft affected and steam is kept up with difficulty. The height of the stack will have to be increased a few feet. Many orders for lights are yet unfilled because the necessary wire, ordered three months ago, has failed to arrive.

THE MARKETS

Fairly large deliveries of farm produce have been made during the past week.

There is an excellent demand for fresh eggs at 20c per dozen.

Butter is more plentiful but readily brings 15 cents up to as high as 20 for best quality.

Potatoes are coming in larger quantities and find a ready market at 35 cents a bushel.

Cabbages bring from 5 to 7 cents each.

Quality is not very plentiful except chickens which bring from 8 to 10 cents per lb. Ducks, geese and turkeys find a ready market at 12-15 cents per lb. There is a good demand for pork at 5 to 6-12 cents live.

Mutton brings 4 to 4-12 cents live. Several loads of hay have been sold on the market each day at from $4.00 to $6.00 per ton.

No deliveries of grain have been made in town during the last week.

GATS FOR AUSTRALIA.

The Bulletin wrote recently to the agents of the Canadian Australian Steamship line at Vancouver for information as to the rate of freight on goods to Australia and the duty, if any, on goods sent to the Pacific coast, replied from Vancouver under date of October 15 as follows:

"We have been offering a rate of 60c per 100 lbs. on oats, Edmonton to Sydney, Australia. The duty into Australia is 1 shilling and 6 pence per 100 lbs.

"We should, of course, be very glad to see a market opened up for Alberta at in Australia, but the difficulty is going to be, your farmers are holding their oats at a fairly high figure, whereas those purchased in Washington, Oregon, and California, are sold at a considerably lower price. Furthermore, our experience in the past has been that the Washington oats are a much brighter and better quality. Of course this condition may not exist this year.

"I should be glad to furnish any information possible to assist in opening up a market."

HORRIBLE ACCIDENT.

Herald: Mrs. Jessie Chapman was turned to death on Saturday night, October 18th, about eight o'clock in her home across the track behind Cushing's store, Calgary. She was aged 62 and lived alone. She went home shortly before eight o'clock and it is supposed she was preparing for bed. In some way the lamp was upset and the unfortunate woman was dead before an alarm could be given. Two boys saw the flames, broke into the house put out the fire by pouring some water on it, and informed the police. There was no inquest.

WETASKIWIN.

Times, Oct. 9.

The attention of the C. P. R. authorities should be drawn to the insufficiency of the shipping facilities at this point. The stock cars are altogether too small. They should at least be double the size and contain many more compartments. Great difficulty is now experienced when large shipments are made as the various bunches must necessarily be run together. This is a source of great trouble to say nothing of the time lost in loading. Wetaskiwin has developed into a large commercial centre, being the market for one of the best ranching and farming districts in the west and certainly deserves better accommodation than is at present afforded. This matter should be taken up without delay.

Another train of 13 carloads of cattle was shipped from here Tuesday morning by P. Burns & Co. This shipment was made up from the herds of Messrs. Rosenor, Skaghton, A. Carstairs, Mallett, and V. A. Vanmeter and some of the finest animals that ever left the district were among them. Mr. Rosenor sold 52 head which averaged 1,341 lbs.

The Health has just finished digging three deep wells in the Stony Creek settlement. They are: Nels Jordan, 209 feet, Albert Lysing 203 feet, and Eric Lysing 305 feet. A good flow of water is the result in each case.

C. Young shipped a car of hogs this week for P. Burns & Co.

The Wetaskiwin Milling Co. are getting their mill in shape for the season's run. They will be running in a few days.

What nearly became a most disastrous conflagration occurred in the Clifton Hotel Monday evening. A lamp in one of the sample rooms upset and the oil ignited. The little Victor fire extinguishers were immediately brought into action and the fire was put out before any serious damage was done beyond ruining some of the traveller's samples.

Twenty-one lots were sold by tender in the new survey last week. The majority of them being east of the railway track. The town site company have also increased the price to $100 for corner and $75 for inside lots.

Ward & White have sold their general store business near Northern to a Mr. Finesth, who has taken possession. Mr. Whyte is in town renewing acquaintances.

INNISFAIR.

Free Press, Oct. 9.

A horse belonging to Mr. T. Croxford was shot on Saturday, apparently by some careless hunter.

Forestry Inspector Mitchell has been in the vicinity lately. The trustees of Aberdeen school district have applied to the department for a supply of trees for the school grounds.

A sad accident occurred near the town of Red Deer last Saturday afternoon, resulting in the death of David L. son of Mr. J. Warwick, of that place. The lad was spending the day at Mr. Plack's, and during the afternoon he and the Plack boys started for Mr. H. Gies's farm about 1-1/2 miles distant. Warwick riding a pony that had been stabled for some time on account of a slight injury. On the way home Warwick's pony began to buck and before the lad could extricate his feet from the stirrup straps he was riding with his feet in the leathers instead of the stirrups—he was thrown. One of his feet was entangled in the stirrup and he was dragged over a mile before his foot gave away and his mangled corpse was dropped at the roadside.

The British Preference.

Globe: Those who jeer at the sentiment may be more interested in the figures. Our imports from Great Britain had been steadily sinking under the administration of the party, which claims to monopolize all the loyalty in Canada. From 1893 to 1897 they fell from $42,329,340 to $29,401,188. In 1897 the preferential tariff was introduced. In 1898 it was increased to 25 per cent, and in 1900 it was increased to 33 per cent. The imports of British goods rose from $29,400,000 in 1897 to $49,200,000 in 1902. But it is said that we did not create a hard enough bargain with Great Britain, and ought to have exacted pay for our act of friendship. Well, from 1897 to 1902 the exports of Canadian produce to Great Britain increased from $69,533,852 to $109,347,345. The imports from Great Britain increased $20,000,000. The exports of Canadian products to Great Britain increased $40,000,000. And this result was achieved without the huckstering which the Tory journals and leaders advised. It was an evidence that a broad-minded policy sometimes pays better than a peddling policy. The facts do not support the Mail's contention that Mr. Fielding ought to be dismissed.

FORT SASKATCHEWAN RIFLE MATCHES

The most successful rifle matches ever held in Fort Saskatchewan came to a close on Saturday evening. The prizes were hotly contested for and good scores made throughout all the matches. Corporal A. K. McLehman, N. W. M. P., making a possible in the ladies match, and J. Carmichael, Strathcona, making 70 out of a possible 75 at 200, 500 and 600 yards. A silver cup, presented by J. W. Shera, was won by J. F. Featherstonhaugh. Another silver cup, presented by Sgt. Major Flintoff, N. W. M. P., for the grand aggregate, was won by Mr. Carmichael, Strathcona, and the Territorial badge by S. W. Anderson.

Team match between Edmonton and Fort Saskatchewan caused considerable excitement and friendly rivalry on both sides. The visiting team consisting of Messrs. Forbes, captain; Heist, Spratt and Pearce, under the able coaching of their captain (and old friend) winning first place over the home team of Messrs. Lattimore, captain; Featherstonhaugh, McLehman and Durrand.

The following is a list of the prize winners in the several matches:

THE NEW BOOK STORE

K. W. MacKenzie has just moved into one of the finest book store premises in the Dominion. The building is a brick addition to the Walker block, following the general design and making a total two storey block frontage of 80 feet. The book store is 20 feet in width by 75 feet in depth, fourteen foot ceiling. Adjustable shelves down both sides, and full length counters on each side, all in British Columbia fir. The basement, the full size of the building, is occupied as a storeroom.

ELECTRIC RAILWAY.

At an informal meeting of citizens called on Saturday afternoon to discuss the town's electric railway charter, Mayor Short presided and N. D. Beck, town solicitor, acted as secretary. Some years ago the town secured an electric railway charter covering a radius of ten miles. The advisability of having certain changes made in the charter was discussed. It was the opinion of the meeting that it should be so amended as to make it a radical railway rather than a street railway, for the purpose of serving outlying settlements, now at a great distance, and for lack of communication. The chairman stated that his information was that electric roads could be laid down for less than $1,200 a mile, and that they could be operated for a distance of fifty miles from the power house. On motion of Messrs. McDougall and Gallagher it was decided to support the council in asking for legislation at Ottawa and Regina which would extend the radius of operation allowed by the charter to 50 miles, and in securing other changes.

LOCAL.

—Harry Lamplough, of Jno. I. Mills staff, is confined to his room with a heavy cold.

—Harry Cartwright resumed work this morning in Rayner's jewelry store after a two weeks' holiday at Wetaskiwin.

—Work on the new Windsor Hotel is being rushed. The walls will soon be completed to the top of the second story.

—The C. & E. began running on their new time table to-day. The train left Strathcona at 8:30 this morning, and was made up without any freight cars.

—On Friday night a fairly heavy shower of rain fell, which made the streets very sticky where the fresh clay has been thrown up for the sewer drains, but the roads outside that were not any the worse inside a few hours.

—There seems to have been some difficulty in locating the whereabouts of the minister of railways during his recent trip through the Territories. The Regina Leader says that he passed through Regina on Sunday, Oct. 5th going west and that he would return to Ottawa by way of San Francisco and Chicago.
